RULES FOR REGISTERING YOUNG MEN OUTLINED BY THE GOVERNOR

Conference Held at Harrisburg to Arrange Details for June 5 Census

CONSCRIPT LAW EXPLAINED

Aliens as Well as Citizen Born Men Between Ages of 21 and 31 Must Register—Sheriff and Appointed Board in General Charge

Conferring with the sheriffs of all the counties of Pensylvania, the mayors of the 18 cities or more with a population of 30,000 or more and the registration commissions of Pittsburg, Philadelphia and Scranton, Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh at Harrisburg Tuesday set in motion the machinery that will register the young fighting men of Pennsylvania for the world war. These and other officials were drafted for service on June 5 and thereafter when ever it may be necesary to register men of fighting age.

The officials in conference with Governor Brumbaugh were vested with authority to draft election officers, district registrars, registry assessors and all other officials and citizens to assist in the great registration two weeks hence and to compel them to serve the nation without compensation. Imprisonment is the penalty for refusal to serve as a registrar. There is no provision for a fine.

At the governor's direction all male persons who have reached or passed the age of 21 on or before June 5 and have not then reached the age of 31 will be registered.

In Washington county the board of registration will consist of Sheriff F. B. Wickerham, President John O. Watson of the board of county commissioners and the state's medical representative. Provisions for all counties are the same. Registrar for all voting precincts will be appointed on the basis of one registrar for every estimated 80 citizens.

Registration is not to be confined merely to citizens. Aliens will be registered and eliminated from the draft by the Federal authorities. There will be no exceptions because of creed or color. Negroes will be no more exempt than whites.

Registration will take place at the polling places wherever possible. Sheriffs will register the eligible inmates of county jails, but the inmates of reformatories and penitentiaries will be cared for by the wardens.

Actual expenses incurred by the boards will be met by the Federal authorities, who will pay; also for translations of proclamations into various languages.

Milk Supply Good—Board Recommends Appointment of William Murphy as Member to Take Place Of Oscar C. Linn, Deceased

Dairies supplying milk to Charleroi are gradually being improved under the supervision of the local board of health, which is grading them. This is the result of a campaign recently instituted by the board of health, with the state board of health standing in back.

In accordance with a decision reached by the board at a meeting a month ago, Health Officer William Darby and John O'Neil and W. F. Hennings of the health board visited the 33 dairies supplying milk to Charleroi customers. Only one dairy was found to be meeting all the requirements relative to surroundings. Near perfection was attained by Ellis Sphar. As a result of the visit and from other causes three were stopped from shipping milk into Charleroi. During the month four arrests were made of milkmen for alleged violations. One arrest was recent, a man being taken from his wagon. His violation was in peddling milk when a member of his family was afflicted with diphtheria.

The board of health went over the milk question at a meeting Monday evening in the office of the secretary Dr. A. O. Davis. The milk has been found generally good, and conditions

"Teddy" Would be Pleased to Meet The Kaiser Again--On French Front

When Col. Roosevelt returned from his famous big game hunt in Africa he paid a friendly visit to Kaiser Wilhelm in Berlin, where a grand review of the German army was arranged in his honor. The accompanying picture, taken at that time, shows the Kaiser and Colonel on the parade ground. It is reported that the German Emperor said to the Colonel then, "Here is an army that can whip the world." Col. Roosevelt has indicated that he would be pleased to meet the Kaiser again—perhaps in France on the battle front. But it is doubtful if the Kaiser would be as pleased to see Col. Roosevelt. He dreads the thought of Col. Roosevelt's participation in the European War.

GOOD ROADS DAY TO BE OBSERVED ON THURSDAY

Tomorrow's dawn will usher in Good Roads Day, 1917, the fourth in the series in Washington county. Preparations are about complete for the strenuous activities usual on Good Roads Day, which will mean the highways of the county generally will be placed in good condition and some particular needy stretches in particular will be made fit for hard usage and comfortable travel. Interest in the observance of Good Roads Day is expected to be increased this year because road improvement is regarded by the patriotically inclined as in line with the preparedness campaign for the war with Germany.

The following townships have been organized and have indicated they will take some part in Good Roads Day work: Blaine, Buffalo, South Franklin, North Franklin, South Strabane, Peters, Cecil, Donegal, Chartiers, North Strabane, Canton, Smith, Morris and Amwell.

McKean and Fallowfield Avenues to be Cleansed Twice a Day

WILL BE SWEPT FREQUENTLY

Other Important Matters Given Attention—Borough Clerk Instructed to Advertise For Bids on Paving of Lookout Avenue

Responding to the requests of many of the business men and citizens of McKean avenue, council at a special meeting Tuesday evening decided to sprinkle McKean and Fallowfield avenues twice a day and to sweep these two streets three times a week. A delegation of business men attended the meeting and the purpose of the visitation was explained by R. H. Rush, W. R. Gaut, John B. Schafer, N. Greenberg and R. S. Coyle. It was brought out that because of the dust when streets are but infrequently sprinkled or swept it was difficult to keep articles in stores or business houses clean and that in addition the dust is a decided discomfort to store people.

Members of council present were President D. R. Duvall, J. K. Mitchell, Charles S. Van Voorhis, H. L. Swickey and S. A. Michener.

Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickeson was instructed to advertise for bids for the paving of Lookout avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets, between Fifth and Sixth and between Seventh and Eighth streets, the bids to be in by June 5, the time of the next regular monthly meeting of council.

The horn system for the fire alarm was adopted for use when the new municipal building is completed. It will take the place of the bell. Inquiries have been made lately into the horn system, which is in successful operation elsewhere. The fire, water and light committee was instructed to proceed with the work of repairing the wires and fire alarm system.

SPRAGGING OF ROOSEVELT

If it should develop, as is now suggested, that patrisan politics controlled President Wilson in his determination to keep Col. Roosevelt from helping to lead an army into France, the administration is certain to be swamped in all its future war work.

Had President Wilson given his permission Col. Roosevelt would have led into the foreign war an army of fighters. His army would have been made up of soldiers beyond the present military age limit, yet young enough to bring everlasting glory to themselves their commanders and their country.

The president himself, skilled and exceedingly clever as a politician, recognizes politics in his refusal to permit Col. Roosevelt to get into the war. "Politically to" the president says "it would no doubt have a very fine effect and make a profound impression."

A very accurate estimate, no doubt. The president is the first to suggest politics, however. He is not content to allow the popular ex-president to follow his bent in a patriotic undertaking and the danger is that the politics injected into the serious affair by the administration will return to haunt all those who would play politics when the fate of the nation is at stake.

SCHOOL RESOURCES

To hear the musical organizations of high school one might well consider the talent of the community was centered there. Last week the various high school musical organizations gave their second annual concert. To say that it was meritorious seems to hardly state the facts.

Surprising proficency has been attained by high school musicians under Prof. J. T. Daniel's training. When we consider that an orchestra of twenty-one pieces or more has been formed from the student body and drilled to the rendition of some of the finest, as well as most difficult grade of music, in a comparatively brief time, we have some conception of what has been done. The fine part of it is that the orchestra has been improving year by year, until it has become noted. However the orchestra is not the only musical club or organization in this high school of ours. There are the glee clubs, the mandolin club and soloists, vocal and instrumental, in numbers.

The school of today, to keep abreast of progress, must have community development and the Charleroi high school seems to have hit upon the right idea. Music is only one thing of course, but it is a big thing. Combined with all the rest of the activities, it furnishes the right kind of zest for school work. It formerly happened that children reached a certain school age were ready to stop. Not so now, and it is due to the wise development of school resources.

NORTHERN PACIFIC MEN BUY THOMPSON EQUITIES

The creditors' committee appointed to liquidate the J. V. Thompson assets, upon returning from St. Paul, Minn., announced that it had completed a deal with the Hill interests in the Northern Pacific railroad for the sale of the equities of the Thompson property. The terms of the agreement were announced as follows:

Unsecured claims to be sold for $5,000,000 which is 40 per cent of the unsecured claims.

Taxes and interest on secured claims amounting to $2,600,000 will be paid by the syndicate upon the extension of secured claims for a period of three years.

The unsecured claims amounted to $13,000,000 and the creditors' committee, in disposing of them at $5,000,000 with interest at 3 per cent every six months.

Official information that the supreme court had invalidated the receivership of the J. V. Thompson estate was received in Uniontown Tuesday and immediately, in behalf of Former Sheriff James H. Hoover, Attorney W. C. McKean filed an execution for $102,778 83, with interest from December 7, 1915. Attorney H. S. Dumbald, for Former County Treasurer G. O. PICKED UP IN PASSING

One of the recruiting canvassers in an English provincial town was a well-known magistrate. In most cases he succeeded in obtaining the promises he wished, but at last he knocked at one cottage door, which was opened to him by a sturdy son of the soil.

"My man," said the magistrate in his most persuasive tones, "are you willing to fight for your king and country?"

"No, I beant, sir," was the prompt reply. "An' I be surprised at you askin' me for to do it. Two years ago come next month you yourself fined I 20 shillings for fighting wi' Bill Smith, and you said it was wicked to fight, an' I promised you as I wouldn't repeat the offense, an' allus kept my word."

"Ben Jason."

"Yas, suh."

"Accused of being under the influence of liquor on Christmas eve."

"Yas, suh."

"Disorderly conduct."

"Yas, suh."

"Profanity."

"I might er 'swo'—Yas, suh."

"Resisting an officer."

"I sho' tried to lick dat Irishman, Judge."

"Petty larceny."

"Count dat in too."

"Ben—the law must deal heavily in your case. Is there anything you left out on your holiday spree?"

The negro scratched his ear.

"Yas suh ef yo' could lemme out fo' a few minits, I'd like ter beat up my ol' woman fo' 'cepting presents from a Madon barber."

BELLS WILL TOLL AS REGISTRATION BEGINS

Director Gifford Makes Public Plans For Nation-Wide Observance on Day When Youth of Land Offer Services to Their Country

Comprehensive plans for the celebration of registration day, June 5, when the young men of the country come forward to offer their services in the war against Germany, were outlined Tuesday in a statement made public by Director Gifford of the Council of National Defense, in Washington, D. C.

Church and fire bells will toll when the hour for registration comes, and the kinsfolk of the men subject to the provisions of the selective draft legislation are to be permitted to march with them to the registration places. Every honor, Mr. Gifford suggests, should be paid to the men who are offering themselves to the common cause for democracy.

The announcement which is to be a guide all over the country says:

"Registration day should be celebrated as a consecration of the American people to service and to sacrifice. It should be a welcome to those registering. It should be a public expression by each community of willingness to surrender its sons to the country. It should be celebrated in a serious spirit and kept as registration day only. It must be distinguished from the ordinary holiday. No other objects should be allowed to intrude thereon. Elaborate and costly decorations should be discouraged. The spirit of volunteer service in all preparations for and activities of the day should be foremost. The celebration should be centered around the registration places and those who register should be especially distinguished. The registration places should be decorated with the national colors and emblems.

"At seven in the morning the hour of the opening of the registration booths, church and fire bells should be rung and whistles blown.

"Bands should be played near the registration places and the parades should make a feature of stopping thereat. The men of registration age should make a feature of stopping. To those registering a badge may be given showing that they have answered their country's call. This should be simple and distinctive; symbolic of the state and nation, and with appropriate motto. It should be given only to those registering.

"After the registration booths are closed, large gatherings may be held with suitable speeches, songs, music and reading of the proclamation and message of the President.

"From press and pulpit and in the school room every effort should be exerted to impress upon all citizens their duty at this vital crisis. Let the words ring forth: 'The world must be made safe for democracy.'"

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

GARDEN COLUMN

By National Emergency Food Garden Commission

Plant Diseases

Most garden plant diseases are caused by some sort of fungus, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington. Fungus is fought with remedies called fungicides. The best garden fungicide is bordeaux mixture. It is cheaply and easily made. This is the formula for 5 gallons of it.

Copper sulphate (or blue stone) 6 oz.
Lump lime.....6 oz.
Water .....5 gal.

You can get the blue stone and lump (unslaked) lime at any seedman's or a druggist can procure them for you. Dissolve the blue stone in 3 quarts of hot water in a wooden tub or large earthen crock. When it is dissolved dilute it with cold water to make 2 1-2 gallons. Then slake the lime with water and dilute it with water until you have 2 1-2 gallons. Finally pour the bluestone solution slowly into the lime water, stirring hard with a paddle and you have bordeaux mixture.

Next you may need a contact poison to kill sucking insect. One of the best of these is made from nicotine sulphate, called 'black leaf 40." An ounce of the nicotine and ounce of laundry soap and 4 gallons of water make this spray. Simply dissolve the soap and mix it and the nicotine with the water. The soap makes the nicotine stick to the plant leaves.

You can use bordeaux instead of water in this solution and this fight sucking insects and fungous diseases with the same spraying. You can buy nicotine sulphate from almost any seed house or a druggist can get it for you. The next bulletin will give recipes for poisoning chewing insects.

FOODSTUFFS CHEAP, IRON HIGH IN 1822

Memorandum Book Kept by Arthur Palmer of Brownsville Early in Nineteenth Century Gives List of Prices of Necessities

In possession of Charles W. Coulter of Brownsville is a ledger kept by his great grandfather, Arthur Palmer, deceased, showing prices of the year 1822. Mr. Palmer was the owner of an iron plant located on the present site of the Henderson coal works below the Diamond mines of Brownsville. He was also keeper of a general store. In those days the prices of beef and mutton were 5 cents per pound straight; two sheep were sold for $4; wheat was sold for $1.25 per bushel; corn at 75 cents per bushel; tobacco at 50 cents per pound; iron ore at 4 cents per pound.

The book shows that meats and foodstuffs were low in price, while grain and iron were high. On the debit side of the ledger is to be seen the wages for 11 hours work, the highest paid being $1 per day and the lowest 50 cents a day.

Mr. Palmer also was a minister and his book contains references to various marriages he performed. Pay for marrying couples ranged from 15 cents to $4. Following the names of several were the words: "Will pay tomorrow."

Hotel Jokes.

Man (to hotel clerk)—How much are your rooms?—Clerk—Two dollars up to twelve. Man—How much are they up to half past nine?

Another Man (to another hotel clerk)—Give me a room and a bath. Hotel Clerk—I can give you a room, but I haven't time to give you a bath.

And Now He's Fired.

"What do you mean by whistling like that in this office?" demanded the merchant.

"Well, sir, I thought I'd like you to know that I'm bearing up cheerfully in spite of my miserable salary," answered the clerk.—Newark Eagle.

Hoped For More.

Mrs. Chestnut—Who was that man I saw you with yesterday?

Mrs. Walnut—That was my husband.

"Oh your last husband?"

"Don't say the last. It sounds as if you were trying to discourage me."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

UNSELFISH MOTHER LOVE

Mother Love is one of the most sacred things in the world. It prompts the mother to give her strength — her life even—gladly—happily—that her child may be safer, happier, stronger or better in every way.

Just a food—specially prepared to aid in making red blood and strong healthy tissue—is what she needs. Then all the natural functions of the body will be easily carried on without the least sense of fatigue or drain. With plenty of red blood in her veins, mother will feel no ill effect from nursing baby.

HEMO will aid mother in supplying baby with a quantity of good quality milk and at the same time improve her general physical condition. When it is impossible to nurse the baby, secure the food most nearly like mother's milk by asking your druggist for Thompson's Food (Peptonized).

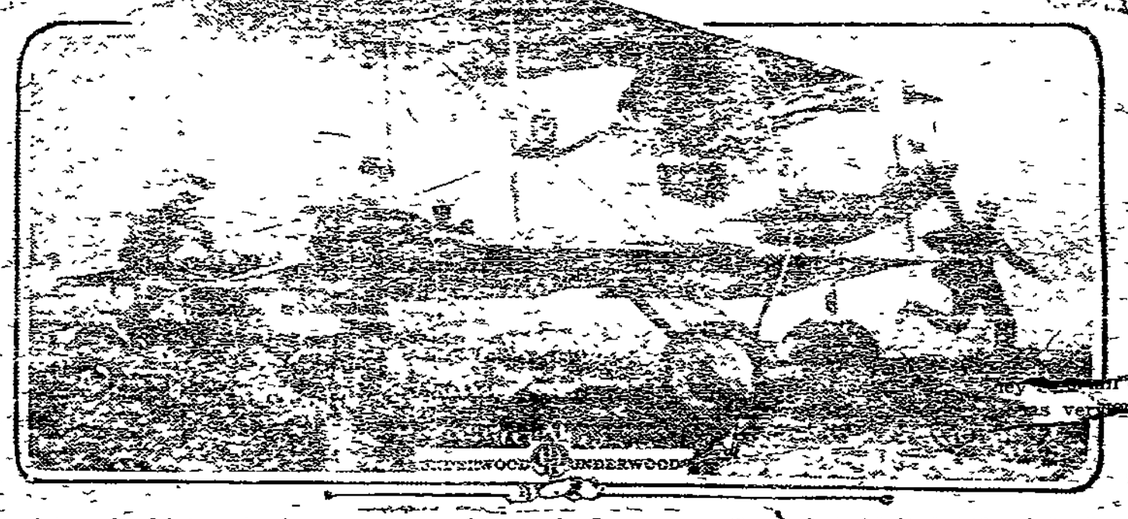
Prince Frederich Karl, Cousin of the Kaiser, is the First Hohenzollern to be Killed in European War



After a brief but spectacular career as an aviator in the German army, Prince Frederich Karl of Prussia has been killed by British gunfire on the French front. His death was announced only a few days ago. He was the first Hohenzollern to be killed in the war. This picture shows the Prince, a nephew of the Kaiser, starting on his last flight. He entered the service shortly after the beginning of the war, and because he was mechanically inclined took up aviation. The machine he used was one he devised himself. It was one of the fastest on the French front. According to reports he ascended and made a circuit over the British lines, where his airplane was riddled by British bullets. He landed inside the British lines and was made a prisoner, but died shortly after his capture from wounds.

BELGIAN ARTISTS WILL GIVE BENEFIT CONCERT

Mme. Victor Horta and Eduoard Doru, Violinist, to Appear Here Sunday In Effort to Raise Funds for Homeless Belgian Children

A fine concert and lecture which will be given at the Majestic theatre next Sunday afternoon May 27 at 3 o'clock by Mme. Victor Horta and Edouard Deru for the benefit of the homeless Belgian children.

The appeal being made by Mme. Horta, who has come to this country, officially appointed by the Belgian government to make known the needs and to collect funds for these little children is one that cannot fail to stir the hearts.

The generous gifts of Americans have helped to save thousands of Belgian women and children from despair and starvation. The larger part of this relief has been given to the destitute in "Occupied Belgian," but, as yet, comparatively little has been done for the poor little Belgian waifs who were scattered before the invader into the western part of Flanders. In this little corner of Western Flanders there are crowded some 600,000 to 700,000 Belgians of which number more than half are children, some separated or lost from their parents and others who will never on this earth see their parents again.

Mme. Horta, who has been with these children, and who has seen and suffered their anguish is making in this country a heroic effort to bring them immediate relief. She has brought with her moving pictures and many views taken by herself which will be shown.

Edouard Deru, the Belgian violinist, has joined his forces to those of Mme. Horta in bringing this aid. He was chosen as court violinist and has toured all over the world, being generally recognized as one of the most famous violinists of the day. His recital program will in itself be sufficient musical treat to all music lovers lovers to warrant their attendance, especially so in view of the worthy cause for which his efforts will be given.

COL. BARNETT PLACED ON THE RETIRED LIST

Receives Rank of Brigadier General By Reason of Appointment by Adjutant General Stewart—Period in Reserve Expires Friday.

A telegram received from Harrisburg carries the information that Col. James E. Barnett of Washington has been placed on the retired list by Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart. The retirement order carries with it the rank of brigadier general for Col. Barnett.

No better known National Guard man has been identified with this branch of the state military service in this district than Col. Barnett. Connected with the guard for over 15 years as an active soldier, he went out in 1898 with the Tenth regiment as lieutenant colonel, and following the death of Col. A. L. Hawkins was in command of this regiment.

Following the Spanish-American war, Col. Barnett was advanced to colonel of the regiment and was commander of the Tenth until May 25, 1917, when he retired from active service and was placed on the reserve list, his place being taken by Col. Richard Coulter, of Greensburg, the present commander.

According to military procedure, any officer on the retired list, at the expiration of 10 years, is either commissioned or retired. Col. Barnett's ten-year period in the reserve will expire next Friday as a brigadier general at that time.

Col. Barnett, when a state of war was declared against Germany sought to recruit a company of volunteers for service in France. However his efforts were not successful when the conscription law was passed. Col. Barnett, while not actively identified with the National Guard for 10 years, has always taken an active interest in the Tenth regiment.

Death-Defying Stunts No Longer Circus Necessity

The safe and sane circus seems to have struck the keynote of the amusement seekers. With horrors enough in the world just now the elimination of the "death-defying" stunts from the Barnum and Bailey show is a welcome change. The box office has told the story in high sounding figures and the filled seats at every performance testify to the "pulling power of circus acts without death as an understudy waiting to play his part when miscalculation gives the cue.

There are thrills enough in the big show which will be seen here next Saturday. Plenty of them but there is no longer an attempt to shoot a woman from a cannon's mouth or exhibit an Arabian knife thrower who can successfully outline the feminine form with sharp blades stuck into a stopboard. The somersaulting motor car and the loop-the-loop bicycle rider has gone because the people no longer care for that sort of thing. No spangle bedecked performer now sticks his head into the lion's mouth His and the other foolhardy stunts are things of the past.

It has been proven that the saner the circus the better it pays. Skill and beauty are appreciated more than daring nonsense and while the high trapeze performer continues to thrill he has more than a life's training to make his position safe—there is a net under every part of the big show grounds to which he might swing.

This condition is only a new expression of the sure evolution of the circus. Kindness has superseded brutality; the appeal is for a smile rather than for the frown of fear. Nowhere is this shown better than in the big side wall which shelters the menagerie

RAILROAD WILL HELP EMPLOYES SUBSCRIBE TO THE LIBERTY LOAN

To assist the government in making the Liberty loan a success, the Pennsylvania Railroad has entered into an arrangement with the Mutual Beneficial Association of its employees, which will enable every man and woman in the service to become subscribers and on easy terms, if they so desire.

The object is to mobilize at once, the buying power represented by the army of 150,000 men and women employed by the company and its affiliated eastern lines. Circulars describing the loan, stating its object and urging co-operation in making it a success will be placed in the hands of every employe.

Subscriptions may be made, without expense through the Mutual Beneficial Association by an employe, whether a member of the association or not. Bonds will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 and will pay 3 1-2 per cent interest.

Employes desiring to avail themselves of easy payments may purchase the $50 bonds for $10 down and $10 a month until paid for. Bonds of the higher denominations may be bought on the installment plan on equivalent terms.

Employes who so desire may have the monthly installments deducted from their wages or if they prefer, they can forward the remittance themselves, directly to the association. No commissioner or brokerage of any kind will be charged for the purchase of any bonds either bought outright or on the installment plan.

TWO GAMES TO BE PLAYED HERE ON MEMORIAL DAY BY SULLIVANS AND PRODUCTS

Two games have been billed for the Memorial day attraction in Charleroi next Wednesday by the Pittsburg Steel Products club. Both will be with the P. J. Sullivans of Lawrenceville, champion independent team of the city of Pittsburg, year 1916. The morning game will begin at 10:30 and the afternoon attraction at 3:15.

The Steel Products team was unfortunate in its first two opening attractions. At Monongahela the first game of the season was dropped, and in Charleroi last Saturday, such was the fate of circumstances, that the local opening game was a defeat also to the Monongahela club. Yet Manager Regester has a prize aggregation and one that is bound to make a mark this season in the Monongahela valley. No announcement is yet forthcoming concerning the batteries or the lineup for the coming games.
